- 8:35 a.m. The Lewis Center
The Senator Philip D. Lewis Center opened in July 2012 as Palm Beach County’s first homeless resource center. The Lewis Center is the central point of access for individuals and families seeking to end their homelessness, which impacts thousands of residents of Palm Beach County. Individuals who never thought it could happen to them are facing a loss of housing – from ‘couch surfing’ to living on the streets. This is one of our community’s most pressing issues.
